

A.W. Homes

Working in the education profession I place a high level of expectation upon myself to be organised and to have projects finished on time. As a past Olympic athlete I take notice of the small things that make everything else the best they can be.

Building a house, creating your home is not something easily done nor entered into. It is something where trust with your builder and communication means a great deal. A.W Homes from the very beginning of the contacts, laying the slab, to the finished product gave us the time, made us feel like family and never ever, once made us feel like our many questions as small as they might seem, or how many times I needed clarification, were a hassle.

When I stand in our new home I know this has been a project with people we know and can rely upon. I would not hesitate to recommend my friends or family to build with A.W. Homes.

Peter Van Milteburg

Peter Van Milteburg

6 May 2010

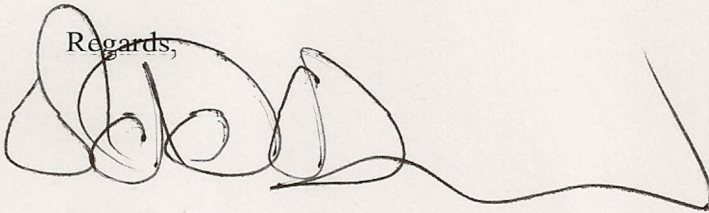

To whom it may concern,

AW Homes have recently completed four houses in Leongatha and six houses in Cranbourne East for Common Equity Housing Limited.

These houses were based on a standard AW Homes design and built to the builder's specification. Client requested changes to the specification were accommodated by the builder. All occupancy permits were achieved ahead of schedule and the houses were delivered on budget.

Common Equity Housing Limited is a not for profit registered housing association, established in 1987 to provide a means for lower income earners to access rental properties that they manage and control on a co-operative and secure basis.

Regards,

Peter Dunn

Manager, Property Development and Asset Management